Growing Instructions:

Sow indoors March to May.

Sow seeds thinly and cover with a fine layer of compost.

Acclimatise to outdoor temperatures and when large enough to handle plant the seedlings outside 10cm apart, in rows 30cm apart.

Harvest June - October.

One of the most popular and reliable heirloom beet varieties in the world. It produces classic globe-shaped, deep crimson roots with a sweet, tender flavor that are highly prized for baking, salads, and pickling
