Growing Instructions:

Sow indoors from April to May.

Sow seeds thinly into pots and cover with a thin layer of compost.

After germination and when strong enough to handle thin out into larger pots.

Plant out June-July, approx. 45cm (18") apart.

Harvest September - February.

A sweet, tender, and mildly nutty winter vegetable. Unlike standard calabrese broccoli, it features leafy stalks topped with loose purple florets that turn bright green when cooked.
